COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

JOIN DREXEL UNIVERSITY FOR A WEBINAR ON

DIGITAL AND SOCIAL MEDIA LAW

Drexel University's online MS in Communication provides the skills and insider knowledge to manage communications for any organization, preparing students for an exciting career in a number of specialties. Students will graduate with a nuanced understanding of media and technology as well as with an impressive portfolio of work and hands-on experience that immediately translates to their careers.

Three concentrations available:
Public Communication, Technical Communication and Science and Health Communication.

THURSDAY, JUNE 15
2:00 PM EST

Communications professionals must excel at creating content in digital and social media to be successful, but what legal obligations do they have?

This webinar will discuss legal issues relating to digital and social media and how professionals can potentially safeguard themselves from libel, copyright infringement, trademark violation, invasion of privacy and others.

PRESENTED BY ANGELO MILONE

Adjunct Professor, MS in Communication program
Drexel University

REGISTER TODAY
ONLINE.DREXEL.EDU/DIGITALLAW

QUESTIONS? CONTACT
877.215.0009 | DUonline@drexel.edu

Drexel UNIVERSITY | ONLINE