Tuesday, June 5 2018
12:00 pm - 1:00 pm

One Drexel Plaza, room 004
3001 Market Street
Philadelphia PA 19104

Featured Speaker

Carly Manion, PhD
Lecturer, OISE, University of Toronto

Carly Manion, PhD, will lead a presentation that explores the influence of gender, race and class, as intersecting and dynamic social categories, on the consultancy work of academics in the field of development education. More specifically, her study is guided by two main research questions: A) What historical and contemporary patterns exist in terms of who participates in development education consultancy work? B) In what ways do gender, race and class positionings influence development education consultancy opportunities and experiences of academics in Northern and Southern institutions?

About the Global Education Colloquium

The GEC is composed of faculty, students and community members who make global education their central focus for research and teaching, and those who incorporate global and education analysis into their areas of primary pursuit.

GEC events are usually held the third Tuesday of every month on the main campus of Drexel University. You are invited to bring your lunch.

Event will be webcast live through the Website
