Creature Comforts: The Balance of Human and Wildlife Co-Habitation

Domesticating Bees: The Delicate Human-Honey Bee Relationship

Chloe Silverman, associate professor of politics and STS, is the author of Understanding Autism: Parents, Doctors and the History of a Disorder (Princeton University Press, 2011), and is currently working on a book on pollinator health.

Join fellow alumni and friends while learning about emerging wildlife issues. Brunch and Admission to the Arboretum are included in the ticket price! Pre-register through the Alumni Office!

Multi Species Urbanization: Challenging Traditional Conceptions of Nature

Christian Hunold, associate professor of politics, global studies and modern languages, STS, and public policy, has written widely on environmental politics and environmental political theory. He is also a passionate wildlife photographer.

Sunday, April 17th 10:30-12:30, Awbury Arboretum Auditorium

AWBURY ARBORETUM

Drexel.edu/STS

DREXEL UNIVERSITY Center for Science, Technology and Society College of Arts and Sciences