Drexel University School of Education presents

CRITICAL CONVERSATIONS IN URBAN EDUCATION

[Forbidden: Undocumented and Queer in Rural America]

This film illustrates the intersection of queer and immigrant issues, highlighting the challenges facing LGBTQA + individuals growing up in the rural South. Moises Serrano's story demonstrates courage, conviction and an unyielding desire to succeed.

Register Now

THURSDAY, APRIL 26, 2018

6:00 pm to 8:00 pm

Bossone Research Center, Mitchell Auditorium
3120 Market Street, Philadelphia, PA 19104

For more information, call 215-895-0900, email ajh357@drexel.edu or visit drexel.edu/soe/ccue.

Register at: SurveyMonkey.com/r/drexel-forbidden

DREXEL UNIVERSITY
School of Education

DISTINGUISHED SPEAKER:

Jesus Cisneros, PhD
The Drexel School of Education's Critical Conversations in Urban Education is proud to host Dr. Jesus Cisneros from the University of Texas at El Paso. Dr. Cisneros takes a critical interdisciplinary approach to education policy and practice, providing a nuanced and complex understanding of the intersection of sexual identity and immigration status. Dr. Cisneros presentation: Undocuqueer: Coming Out of the Shadows and the Closet will provide further insight into the critical themes presented in the documentary.