MODERN SEGREGATION

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 25TH, 2018

AT 4PM

JAMES E. MARKS INTERCULTURAL CENTER

(3225 ARCH STREET)

75% of white people have zero non-white friends. Most African Americans live in neighborhoods where the percentage of black residents is nearly four times that of the national population. The number of racially isolated American schools approximately doubled between 1996 and 2016. Join us to discuss segregation in 2018 and what individuals and Universities can do to build more integrated and inclusive communities.

Students, faculty, professional staff, and community members welcome. Sweet treats provided. Email jkrohn@drexel.edu to RSVP.
