DESCRIPTION:

Join the Architectural Glass & Metal Association (AGMA), Employing Bricklayers Association (EBA), General Building Contractors Association (GBCA), Mechanical Contractors Assocation of Eastern PA (MCA) and the National Electrical Contractors Association of Southeastern PA, NJ and DE (NECA) as we present the first ever, Construction Technology Expo.

Technology and innovation have revolutionized, and will continue to change, the way we build. This Construction Technology Expo will offer insight on new technologies that are transforming all stages of the engineering and construction process, as well as give guests an opportunity to see, touch, and feel all types of applications, platforms, products and services.

Join us to make sure your firm is up to speed on new applications, tools, technologies and platforms. Learn how to implement these products and services, who else is using them, the common pitfalls of technology in construction, and share information with other firms.
