Crisis at the Border

Fighting for Individual Rights and State Accountability

The Center for Law, Policy, & Social Action welcomes
Nicole Ramos, Director of the Border Rights Project at Al Otro Lado
Wednesday March 20 from 4-5:30pm in room 140
Kline School of Law 3320 Market St.

Join the Center for Law, Policy, and Social Action for a talk by Nicole Ramos, an attorney with Al Otro Lado, a bi-national, direct legal services organization with offices the US and Mexico. Ms. Ramos will discuss her work with the Border Rights Project, which provides direct services to asylum seekers and their families and also engages in broader legislative, media, and legal advocacy efforts to challenge systemic human rights violations committed by state actors.

DREXEL UNIVERSITY
Thomas R. Kline
School of Law

This event co-sponsored by the Latin American Law Student Association, the National Lawyers Guild, the Department of Politics, and the Department of Global Studies & Modern Languages.