Drexel University School of Education presents

CRITICAL CONVERSATIONS IN URBAN EDUCATION

The Science Leadership Academy Youth Scholars Research Symposium

Register Now

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 16 | 5:30 – 7:30 PM

RECEPTIONS BEGINS AT 5:30 PM

DORNSIFE CENTER FOR NEIGHBORHOOD PARTNERSHIPS
RYAN HALL ROOM S209
3509 SPRING GARDEN STREET, PHILADELPHIA, PA 19104

This symposium will highlight the research that has been conducted over the last two years by five Science Leadership Academy seniors. The youth scholars will present their research on critical issues targeted by the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals, offering solutions to international challenges such as sustainable consumption and production, childhood marriage, food deserts in urban communities, mental health access for undocumented students, and the intersection of urban communities and sea life. We will also celebrate the youth scholars' return from the International Conference on Urban Education in San Juan, Puerto Rico where the students served as featured presenters, and shared their research with the global community.

To register, call 215-895-0900, email ccues@drexel.edu or visit drexel.edu/soe/ccue

PRESENTATIONS:

- Preventative Measures to Counteract Food Deserts and Related Health Risks in Urban Communities — Imani Weeks
- Access to Mental Health Care for Adolescent Undocumented Immigrants — Isabel Medlock
- Plastic Beaches: How Urban Communities Impact Sea Life — Xavier Carroll
- Eradicating a Mindset of Wastefulness: Ensuring Sustainable Consumption and Production Patterns — Eva Karlen
- Escaping Their Fate: An Investigation of Childhood Marriage and it's Epidemic Over Centuries — Tahmidul Bhuiyan

DREXEL UNIVERSITY
School of Education