PUTTING CREATIVITY TO WORK:

THE IMPORTANCE OF A CREATIVE MINDSET, ENVIRONMENT, TOOLS AND ACTION

Tuesday, October 20, 2020 | 12 P.M. ET

Presented by Larry Keiser, PhD,
Assistant Clinical Professor, Drexel University's School of Education

What is creativity and why is it important?

Why is having a Creative Mindset critical to infusing creativity and innovation into your business organization or school, employees and/or students? What does a creative workplace or learning environment look and feel like?

This virtual 45-minute session will provide answers to these questions while providing specific takeaways for teachers, business and educational leaders to use to begin developing creative work and learning environments.
